OUR PEOPLE 15

At First Bank of Berne, we believe there is always a better way to serve the customer.

We are constantly looking for opportunities to improve our customers' banking experience – in 2016 we found that opportunity through technology.

We realized that by upgrading and modernizing our operating systems, we could position the bank for future growth and success. Not only could we improve internal efficiency and productivity, but we could offer exciting new digital products and services to our customers, including mobile deposit and PopMoney.

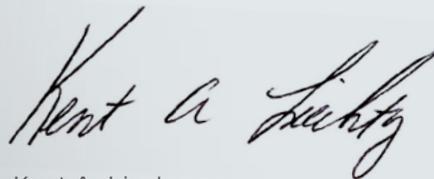

Of course, any new technology comes with a learning curve. The conversion process was challenging for the bank. Through it all, the employees of First Bank of Berne used the challenges to stretch their customer service abilities and strengthen customer relationships.

However, our increased attention on technology implementation did not distract from our performance. First Bank of Berne ended the year with a strong net income of $11.28 million. We also increased the total assets of the bank to $666.22 million, while meeting the deposit, loan and cash management needs of our communities.

Many late nights and long hours challenged everyone, but provided us with new opportunities to assist our customers with the enhanced capabilities. We already know these efforts will be rewarded as we capitalize on future growth opportunities. We want to thank the employee team for their incredible work ethic and strong attention to detail throughout the process. First Bank of Berne also wants to thank every customer for showing patience and understanding as we worked to find our technological stride.

We look forward to 2017 and believe we will continue to improve as an organization. Please feel free to come to us with any questions or concerns you may have about your bank, First Bank of Berne.

Sincerely,

Kent A. Liechy
President & CEO

We believe

IN A STRONG WORK ETHIC AND ATTENTION TO DETAIL.

We believe A LITTLE EXTRA ATTENTION GOES A LONG WAY.

The 2016 grain farming season was not an easy one for our local farmers and agriculture businesses. As we talked to customers and prospects throughout the communities we serve, we realized we had an opportunity to deepen our customer relationships by reassuring them that First Bank of Berne was right beside them through this challenging season.

We started by taking the extra time to go over financial records, developing a financial plan that targeted long-term success, not just temporary relief. By spending the extra time, we gave our customers confidence that they would weather 2016 and many seasons to come.

The Agribusiness Department also worked on building a personal approach that took us out of the office and onto the farms. Bank Managers and Agribusiness Bankers signed documents at kitchen tables, often after enjoying a tour of the farm. We even delivered meals and rode in combines during harvest time.

Many customers and prospects alike noticed, saying that no other bank had ever visited them like that before.

Customer branch visits gave us an opportunity to introduce First Bank of Berne employees on a first name basis. We listened to them carefully before matching them with an expert who could provide suggestions and solutions quickly and accurately.

Recognizing the opportunity to build stronger relationships, and taking the extra time to actually do it. We believe that is how Agribusiness should be done, and in 2016, First Bank of Berne did just that.

We believe THAT TECH SHOULD NEVER REPLACE TOUCH.

First Bank of Berne Business Banking Department welcomed the new upgrade as an obvious opportunity to improve our customers' banking experience. But we also realized that "better and faster" would be useless if they were accompanied by "frustrating and confusing." We anticipated the questions and challenges our business customers would face and prepared them in advance of the upgrade.

First Bank of Berne has always been excellent at listening. But listening is only part of the equation. In 2016, we focused on listening, and then asking the right questions. The right questions not only ensure that we understand the customer's needs and goals, it also can uncover a better way that the customer didn't realize was there.

By combining the same technology found in larger banks with the personal touch only a local bank can deliver, First Bank of Berne was able to surprise, delight and support every business customer that came through our doors.

— PERSONAL BANKING —

We believe THAT MAKING OPPORTUNITIES IS BETTER THAN TAKING ORDERS.

In 2016, we realized that personal banking provided many opportunities if we looked beyond the daily transactions. Our employees are encouraged to help customers uncover solutions to their long-term banking needs by asking the right questions. By listening carefully to the answers, our employees were able to offer real solutions to the every day financial challenges our customers face.

We also took banking out of the bank, finding ways to bring transactions to them. By increasing accessibility, First Bank of Berne saw a noticeable increase in personal banking deposits, and a genuine deepening of customer relationships.

Best of all, every offer, every decision was made from the perspective of “what’s best for the customer?” By focusing on integrity, customer relationships and personal relationships, First Bank of Berne’s Personal Banking is building a strong community of loyal, happy customers.

Good leaders go first. Not in order, but in actions. We rely on our leaders to set a tone of service for the rest of the First Bank of Berne family.

Every member of First Bank of Berne's executive leadership has presented a consistent example of community service and participation. They are united under the same goal to see that First Bank of Berne provides the same high level of attention to every community we serve.

Since our earliest days, strong customer relationships and a commitment to knowledgeable, personal attention have set First Bank of Berne apart from other community banks. We owe this solid reputation to every employee on our team, from the front desk to the back office. We couldn't sustain this level of service without consistent, confident leadership to set our direction. Every day, our leadership sets the example for the rest of us to follow – a commitment to community growth, prosperity with integrity and genuine relationships. With this leadership in place, First Bank of Berne has a clear, steady course for today and for the years to come.
